

Aleksandar Plavsic

Psychologist

Workplace Wellbeing Collaboration Overview

Psychology-informed support for burnout prevention, work stress, emotional pressure, leadership wellbeing, and healthier work cultures.

For HR, People teams, clinics, wellbeing initiatives, and modern organizations

In person in Barcelona, in person by arrangement for organizations, or online

A practical, human approach

This overview is designed for clinics, HR teams, EAP providers, coworking communities, universities, and wellbeing initiatives interested in psychological support that is warm, credible, and connected to real professional pressure.

1:1 psychological support

Confidential support for individuals navigating work stress, burnout, emotional overwhelm, transitions, identity, relationships, and adjustment.

Workshops & talks

Practical sessions on burnout prevention, emotional regulation, stress patterns, leadership pressure, communication, boundaries, and sustainable performance.

Workplace wellbeing

Flexible formats for organizations that want support connected to employee wellbeing, HR priorities, leadership wellbeing, and healthier workplace culture.

Public & research credibility

Experience across psychological support, corporate environments, public mental health work, and PhD research connected to wellbeing and work stress.

Available formats

Introductory workshop

60-90 minutes

Focused session on burnout, stress, emotional regulation, or workplace wellbeing.

Workshop series

2-4 sessions

Structured programme for teams, managers, founders, or international professionals.

1:1 support pathway

By arrangement

Confidential support for individuals or employees who need space to reflect and move forward.

Example topics

Burnout before burnout happens Recognizing emotional exhaustion, stress patterns, and early warning signs before people collapse.

Emotional regulation under pressure Understanding how stress affects thinking, communication, reactions, and decision-making.

Work stress and boundaries Practical conversations about pressure, availability, workload, and sustainable ways of working.

Founder support Support for founders and leaders carrying responsibility for people, performance, decisions, and uncertainty.

International professionals & expats Support for adaptation, loneliness, identity, transitions, work pressure, and life abroad.

Organizational change Helping teams stay grounded through uncertainty, transition, growth, restructuring, or shifting expectations.

Contact

info@aleksandarplavsic.com | aleksandarplavsic.com