

INDIVIDUAL PSYCHOLOGICAL SUPPORT

Support for professionals navigating pressure, change and burnout risk.

Online psychological support in English, Spanish and Serbian for work stress, burnout, anxiety, career transitions, workplace conflict and expat adjustment.

Who this is for

Professionals, expats and internationally mobile clients who want a structured space to understand what they are carrying.

How it begins

Start with an introductory call, clarify the focus and decide whether ongoing support is appropriate.

Areas of support

Burnout and exhaustion

Understanding stress patterns, boundaries, recovery and sustainable routines.

Anxiety and work stress

Support for overload, uncertainty, performance pressure and difficult routines.

Career transitions

Changing roles, identity shifts, confidence and professional direction.

Workplace conflict

Difficult conversations, communication strain and interpersonal pressure.

Expat adjustment

Relocation, language, belonging, loneliness and adaptation.

Emotional wellbeing

A confidential space to slow down and make sense of what is happening.

How referrals work

I collaborate with psychologists, clinics, counselling centres and wellbeing providers supporting individuals experiencing burnout, work-related stress, career transitions, workplace conflict and international relocation challenges.

STEP 1

Referral or introduction

Referral by a clinician or shared contact details.

STEP 2

Initial consultation

Clarify the need, context and fit.

STEP 3

Ongoing support

Agree on rhythm and focus if appropriate.

Languages and format

Languages

English, Spanish and Serbian.

Format

Online support and, where possible, in-person sessions in Barcelona.
