

ALEKSANDAR PLAVSIC

— Ψ —

PSYCHOLOGIST

Workplace Mental Health & Wellbeing

Psychology-informed support for burnout prevention, workplace pressure, leadership wellbeing, HR wellbeing and healthier organizational cultures.

For HR, People teams, clinics, wellbeing initiatives and international organizations

aleksandarplavsic.com | info@aleksandarplavsic.com

A practical, organizational approach

This overview is designed for HR teams, clinics, EAP providers, coworking communities and wellbeing initiatives looking for psychologically credible support connected to real workplace pressure.

Workshops & talks

Structured sessions on burnout prevention, emotional regulation, stress patterns, leadership pressure, communication and sustainable performance.

EAP-style collaboration

Support pathways for employees or professional communities needing psychologically informed reflection and practical next steps.

Leadership wellbeing

Sessions for founders, managers and team leads carrying responsibility for people, decisions, uncertainty and team wellbeing.

Public & research credibility

Experience across psychological support, corporate environments, public mental health work and PhD research connected to wellbeing and work stress.

Available formats

Introductory workshop

60-90 minutes

Focused session on burnout, stress, emotional regulation or workplace wellbeing.

Workshop series

2-4 sessions

Structured programme for teams, managers, HR professionals or international professionals.

1:1 support pathway

By arrangement

Confidential support for individuals or employees who need space to reflect and move forward.

Example topics

Burnout prevention before crisis

Recognizing workload pressure, emotional exhaustion, stress patterns and early warning signs before burnout escalates.

The People Behind the People

Mental health and resilience for HR professionals: emotional labour, boundaries, compassion fatigue and sustainable support.

Emotional regulation under pressure

Understanding how stress affects attention, communication, judgment and decision-making.

Leadership wellbeing

Support for leaders carrying responsibility for people, performance, decisions and uncertainty.

Workplace wellbeing for teams

Practical conversations about workload pressure, psychological safety, remote work and healthier workplace cultures.

Psychological sustainability

Building work patterns that support performance while respecting recovery, wellbeing and human limits.

Featured workshop

The People Behind the People

Mental Health and Resilience for HR Professionals

A workshop designed specifically for HR professionals exploring emotional labour, burnout risk, difficult conversations, compassion fatigue, boundaries, psychological resilience and sustainable ways of supporting others without neglecting their own wellbeing.

Learning outcomes

- Recognizing signs of stress and burnout in HR work.
- Understanding emotional labour and compassion fatigue.
- Developing practical resilience strategies.
- Improving boundaries and recovery practices.
- Supporting employees while protecting personal wellbeing.

Best suited for

- HR, People & Culture and Employee Experience teams.
- Organizations where HR is carrying high emotional and operational pressure.
- International or remote teams navigating wellbeing, performance and employee support.

Available online, in person in Barcelona, or by arrangement for organizations.